GROUP LESSONS

Our group riding lessons are the most cost-effective way for riders of all levels of experience to improve their skills. Legacy holds group sessions six days a week to provide you with a flexible schedule. Beginner through Advanced classes are held at various times throughout the week, along with special "Adult Only" classes.

Group riding lessons run approximately 45 minutes. There is no maximum age limit. Group lessons have no less than 2 riders in a class, but no more than 6. If there is 2 or less riders in a group the group is a 30 minute class. Group lessons help a rider develop the skills necessary for controlling a horse while in the ring with other riders, much like learning to drive with other cars on the road. Group lessons also offer a great workout for those looking for another way to exercise!

Group lesson packages are available in four, six and eight-week sessions. Appropriately cancelled group lessons may be rescheduled for later in the same week or added to the end of your session.

Group: $40 purchased individually

4-week session: $150

TINY TOTS RIDING

Our unique Tiny Tot Riding program allows children ages 3-6 to experience the Legacy method of instruction. Lessons are one-on-one, children will spend 20 minutes on horse time and 10 minutes of grooming and tacking. Tiny Tot lessons are constructed around each rider's individual needs. Young riders will learn basic stopping, steering and voice commands, as well as exercises to develop both balance and strength. Riders must be at least 3 years of age to participate. Lessons are set up on a week-to-week basis, allowing rider and parent's freedom of scheduling. Length of program is solely directed by each child's attention span and strength of interest.

Tiny Tot Lesson (ages 3-6): $35

(All lessons are 30 minutes long)

4-week session: $130
